Summary

I am an adaptable professional with strong analytical and strategic abilities, thriving in the ever-changing digital landscape. With experience in both B2B and B2C enterprises, I possess a deep understanding of diverse market needs. My career began in software, specializing in analysis and commercialization. However, my passion for project management led me to transition my expertise. Holding an MBA and certifications as a PMP and PBA, I excel in managing projects and analyzing business requirements. As a PMO specialist, I have contributed to Scrum teams in domains like FinTech and cryptocurrency, serving over 30,000 customers.
